Attorney General Gives Canines A Reprieve

Andover's canine population has been liberated by the attorney general.

The new, tough dog leash law, approved by town meeting in May, was disapproved by the attorney general's office because the public had insufficient warning of the statute finally enacted.

Sidney P. White, sponsor of the tougher version of the leash law, and who offered it as an amendment to the article inserted by the selectmen, said it was his intent that the matter be brought before the voters again at the October town meeting.

White would like the selectmen to place the article in the warrant, but failing that, he would probably place the matter on the agenda through the 100 signatures necessary to place an item.

White's amended version, as approved by the voters in May, did not conform to statute, according to Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry F. O'Connell, who notified Town Clerk Elden S. Salter of the disapproval last Thursday.

O'Connell wrote, "The article in the warrant contained one paragraph dog leash requirement with penalties and prosecution. It was amended on the floor of town meeting to a complete revision of the dog control laws of the town. The voters were not apprised in advance of this rewrite. According to General Laws, Chapter 39, Section 10, the warrant article did not contain the substantial matter of the vote taken."

The so-called leash law brought the heaviest attendance of the town meeting session which lasted for nights.

There were 831 voters in attendance at the session when the leash law was discussed and voted upon with an overwhelming majority favoring the strict regulations proposed by White.

The proposal presented in the warrant by the selectmen modified the town's animal control laws, and provided some penalties.

White's proposal provided that a dog

Manager To Be Asked To Resign

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

The future of J. Maynard Austin as Andover's town manager, will apparently be more in jeopardy after a conference session between he and the selectmen tonight at the water treatment plant.

Mrs. Susan T. Poore, chairman of the selectmen, said Wednesday that she was prepared to ask for Austin's resignation at the session.

Her action followed Austin's response to the selectmen's four-one vote last week which made him acting manager. The manager, in his response to the selectmen said he was accepting the appointment as acting manager. "...with the proviso that should the board vote to terminate my services as acting town manager I would receive at least a 60-day notice of termination. I have no choice if I wish to be employed."

Austin also commented on the board's actions of April 25 at which time four members of the board said it was their intent to renew his appointment for another two years.

The manager also states the board now fails to honor that commitment. Should of Aug. 30, but in view of other problems representing non-performance of his duties within the legal confines of the office of town manager."

Mrs. Poore said that tonight's meeting being a conference session, no votes would be taken, but a consensus of opinion would various members of the board feels there should be a different town manager, then he said he would leave, but would "expect the board to seek and accept a legal process whereby I would be compensated for any loss of wages between the termination of my appointment as acting town manager and September, 1979."

The conference session tonight has been called to specifically talk about the manager's response.

Mrs. Poore said Wednesday that she would ask for Austin's resignation.

She said she felt the board had grounds to ask for his resignation or dismissal, stating, "I believe in view of the manager's actions, failing an acceptable explanation from him at our conference session Thursday night, I shall ask for his resignation."

"It is my personal opinion that the board has grounds for dismissal based not only on his actions in response to our vote probably be gained.

Meanwhile, the member of the board who opposed last week's action, Selectman Edward M. Harris has explained his stand, noting that naming Austin as acting manager was a retraction of the vote taken April 25 which provided Austin with a two-year extension.

Harris, who campaigned on the premise he would retain the manager, explains in his statement that he made the motion to continue Austin in office for another two years and also add that Austin be named "acting manager" to cover any possible legal problems.

This motion was supported only by he and Selectmen Albert Cole, also elected in March in support of the incumbent manager.

The matter of the manager's tenure surfaced last week as the termination of this three year contract via a previous board of selectmen was about to expire.

The previous board voted a three-year appointment, and last January announced in a four-to-one decision that they did not intend to renew the contract when it expired Sept. 2, 1977.

The appointment had been under discussion by that board since June of 1976.

The membership of the board was subsequently altered by the electorate, a resignation and a decision not to seek reelection.

The new board, on April 25, with only Mrs. Poore and Bowen left from the prior decision, said it was their intent to renew the appointment for two years on Sept. 2.

On Aug. 30, at a meeting at the water treatment plant, it was determined that a legality involving the town manager

Warrant Closes Friday

The Warrant for the annual October town meeting will close Friday at 4 p.m. in the town clerk's office. All items for consideration must be in by that time, with private articles requiring 100 signatures in order to be placed on the agenda.

It is anticipated that the date for the meeting will probably be Oct. 24. Until this year, the date had been established as the first Monday in October. Town meeting this year approved a change in the bylaw, allowing the October session to be held on any day during the month and this was approved this past week by the Attorney General.

Selectmen Meet Monday

The selectmen will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of Memorial Hall Library.

It is anticipated that the establishment of new water rates for the town will be on the agenda and probably voted upon. Under study are proposals from the administration to provide a flat rate or an increase in the present descending rate scale.

Joint Meeting On Tuesday

Selectman School Committee and Finance Committee members will meet in joint session at the water treatment plant next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. to examine the status of the capital budget program.

The meeting is part of the schedule established which would result in bringing the program before the public for preliminary discussion and review at the conclusion of the October town meeting.

Positive Attitude Prevails

If the teachers' return to school this fall is any indication, it's going to be a good year.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert, following a meeting with teachers early Tuesday morning, noted a positive attitude and enthusiasm he said he hadn't seen "in quite some time."

He gave much of the credit to last spring's signing of a three-year contract, but also noted the school committee's attempts to bridge gaps between the two groups.

While anticipating a good opening for some 6300 to 6500 pupils today, he also issued something of a warning that truancy problems would be turned over "to the proper authorities."

He said the schools are going to have to be more deliberate in the area of attendance.

There are, he said, laws that apply to attendance, and youngsters must take them more seriously.

Assistant Position On Agenda

The first step toward replacing Assoc. Supt. Harry Westcott will be taken at a special school committee meeting next Thursday night, when Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert makes a presentation for an "assistant" position.

Seifert Tuesday night maintained a stance he took before the position of "associate superintendent" was created three years ago — that an "associate" position is not necessary in a system the size of Andover's.

An "assistant," he said, will be sufficient, and he'll present an organization chart and recommend a role and priorities for that new person.

Chamber To Open Office

The Andover Chamber of Commerce will have its own office as of 12 noon Monday, Sept. 12, according to Chamber of officers.

In a joint statement released by James L. Abramson, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce and John F. Bassett, president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber leaders announced the opening. The Andover Chamber is a division of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. Its new office will be located in the BayBank Merrimack Valley building, 23 Main Street, Andover.

Hours initially will be Mondays from noon to 4 p.m. and Wednesdays from 9 a.m. till noon. Designed to serve as an information center, membership service facility and generally to be more convenient to those concerned with Andover, the office opening was hailed by Bassett and Abramson as a major step forward.

This action will serve to strengthen the Andover Chamber of Commerce and we believe, in turn, strengthen the town of Andover. Being closer to what is happening in the community is a plus, "they said".

Persons calling the chamber should ask for Madeline Abate, executive director.

In 1925, Lum Pao-Hwa of China played 764 games of tennis in one week.

Home Of Little Women

The Orchard House in Concord, where Louisa May Alcott wrote "Little Women" in 1868, is open Monday through Saturday, 10 to 4:30; Sunday, 1 to 4:30, on Route 2A. Half-hour guided tour of the house plus talks in also Bronson Alcott's Concord School of Philosophy.

Many Courses In Academy Program

For the forty-second consecutive year, Phillips Academy will offer its Adult Evening Study Program (AESP).

Again this year the Academy has coordinated its adult program with the program offered by the Town of Andover. This provides a wide range of courses in areas from Astronomy to Ballet, Classical Mythology to Squash Instruction. Courses cost less than $10 and usually run from six to eight weeks.

A catalog describing the program is available by calling between 10 a.m. and noon, or writing Phillips Academy Evening Study Program. In-person registration at the Underwood Room (across the street from the Andover Inn) will be on Monday, Sept. 19, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Main registration is accepted through Sept. 23 for any course labelled, "no Limit."

The AESP has sought to diversify its offerings in the academic, practical, and recreational areas. Throughout the years the program has given the public access to the excellent facilities and faculty of Phillips Academy.

All courses begin during the week of Sept. 29, and registration will be accepted through the first week of classes on a space-available basis. Courses with insufficient enrollment will be cancelled prior to that first week. Monday's schedule includes Ballet, Classical Mythology, Scuba Diving, Small Business Taxes, and Squash Instruction. Tuesday will feature Astronomy, Celestial Navigation, a history course entitled from Vienna to Sarajevo, Solar Energy for Homes, First Aid and C.P.R. Wednesday's classes concern Chamber Music for interested musicians, Interior Design, Investment Real Estate, Multi-Purpose Writing, Soviet Science Fiction, and another section of Squash Instruction.

Those who are interested in enrollment should call or write Phillips Academy for more information.

Focus On Fall

A day of natural history workshops and exploration of the outdoors will be sponsored by Massachusetts Audubon Society's Broadmoor Wildlife Sanctuary in South Natick on Oct. 8.

"Focus on Fall" will feature a variety of activities for both adults and children. Adults may choose four workshops on subjects ranging from Bees and Beekeeping, Herb Growing and Drying, Meteorology, Orienteering and Maps and more. For children ages 8 - 12, a day-long program will include Indian games, exploring pond life, candle making, bird feeders and more.

A "Focus" participant may substitute two of the four workshops with an interpretive canoe trip on the Charles River.

Automated Teller Unveiled By Bank

L. H. Hutchinson, president of Bay State National Bank, has announced the unveiling of the first round-the-clock, self-service banking facility in the Merrimack Valley and the first such automated IBM device in the state, at its Winthrop Avenue branch here.

INSTA-BANK, an IBM 3614 consumer transaction facility, has been installed in the branch's outside wall, permitting the bank's customers to make the following transactions: withdraw cash in $5 and $20 denominations from savings or checking accounts, up to a daily limit of $250 from either account or a combined total of $350; transfer money from one account to another; make installment loan, mortgage, Master Charge or club payments; obtain current checking or savings account balance.

Air pollution reduces the growth of alfalfa and sweet corn by 15 percent, bean growth by 25 percent and tomato by 30 percent, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

To initiate a transaction, a customer inserts a plastic, magnetic stripe identification card — called Insta-Card — into the Insta-Bank, which is connected to the bank's central IBM System/370 computer. After the card is validated, a display panel instructs the customer to enter a secret code number at the Insta-Bank's keyboard. Then, guided by messages on the display panel, the customer presses a series of keys to indicate the transaction and its amount. After each withdrawal, the system debits the customer's account and returns the Insta-Card.

When depositing funds or making loan payments, for example, the customer simply presses the appropriate keys and inserts an envelope — containing payment documents, checks or cash — into a covered deposit slot. Customers also can make payments by inserting an envelope containing a payment stub or coupon and keying instructions to deduct funds from their checking or savings accounts.

To encourage customers to try Insta-Bank, users during the month of September will be given a certificate good for a free ice cream cone at any Friendly Ice Cream Shoppe. Additionally, during this period, trained demonstrators will be at the Insta-Bank 14 hours a day, seven days a week to answer questions, help customers with transactions and demonstrate the Insta-Bank to non-customers.

The bank also announced that it has begun use of teller-operated computer terminals in all 10 branches. All units announced today are part of the IBM 3600 finance communications system. The in-branch, teller-operated terminals affect all 85,000 Bay State customers serviced by branches in Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover, Ipswich and Haverhill. The terminals include keyboard display units and passbook/document printers linked to the central computer. The new devices simplify and speed transactions, thereby improving teller productivity and customer convenience.

School Safety Is Emphasized

"School's Open — Drive Carefully" is a motto motorists should bear in mind this Fall as children return to school.

In its annual "School's Open" safety campaign, The Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley reminds Merrimack Valley area motorists that children returning to school may introduce traffic hazards drivers must be alert to.

David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President of the AAA-affiliated club offers the following safety advice to parents and motorists:

Review pedestrian safety rules with children before they go back to school — especially the very young who are going to school for the first time. The dangers of playing a bus stops and darting between parked cars should be pointed out.

If you have a youngster who is walking to school, help him or her map out the safest walking route. When you can, use streets with low traffic volume and controlled intersections. Dress children in light-colored clothing for maximum visibility.

If possible, don't drive children to school. Increased traffic around schools contribute to congestion and can lead to mishaps.

Obey reduced speed limits posted in many school zones and always stop for school buses loading or unloading pupils.

Watch for children riding bicycles. They may appear suddenly from a blind spot near the car. Also advise children of safe bicycle riding rules.

Above all, Mr. Christensen urges motorists to give a second thought — and a second look — to the hundreds of school children they will soon encounter. Expect the unexpected.

Volunteers Needed At Aquarium

Would you like to introduce a child to a sea otter or a penguin? Would you like to learn more about tide pools and the sea and then guide people through the wonderful world of water? You can, as an Education Volunteer or Field Associate at the New England Aquarium.

Education volunteers learn about the exciting exhibits at the Aquarium. They may then act as gallery guides for the many school groups, families, and individuals who visit the Aquarium each year.

Another volunteer activity under the education department is the field associates program. Volunteers visit school groups in their neighborhood to prepare the children for a visit to the Aquarium.

A general orientation program for all people interested in volunteering at the Aquarium will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 27, and repeated on Saturday, Oct. 1, from 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon. All volunteers must attend one of these programs.

Education volunteers will also attend a two-day 'crash course' from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 28 and 29. An extended Gallery Training Course will begin on Thursday, Oct. 6, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and run successive Thursdays for ten weeks (excluding Thanksgiving week).

If you are interested in either of these programs, call the volunteer office.

Auditorium Study Group Gets Funds

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 8, 1977

The school committee Tuesday night voted up to $5000 to the Fine Arts Facility Study Committee for architectural services needed to complete a report on the need for an auditorium here.

The funds were requested by Robert King, high school teacher and drama coach, and chairman of the study committee, during an interim committee report. The money may be forthcoming from Title 3 funds, and otherwise from the school maintenance account.

King said Tuesday night the majority of the committee leans toward the addition of an auditorium to what he calls "the unfinished high school." While other alternatives such as the old Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium have not been ruled out entirely, he said the feeling is they're less desirable because they're not as accessible for educational needs.

An auditorium was included in the original design of the high school, but was lopped off by town meeting in an economy move about 10 years ago.

King said Tuesday night that Andover High is the only high school in the state they could find that doesn't have a stage, and that in fact the school is not conforming to a state law which requires a place where all members of a class can congregate at one time.

While the high school gymnasium filled that requirement when it was built, he said that is no longer so.

King envisioned a 2,000-seat auditorium to the right of the high school, that could be divided for some class use during the day while other groups could still work on stage. Mrs. Clare Syiek added that the committee had considered putting a cafeteria, kitchen and music facility beneath the auditorium, freeing up additional space in the existing high school for classrooms. She said the present tiled cafeteria with its electrical facilities could easily be converted to shop rooms.

King added that federal and state funds are available to help build cafeterias, and that could make the pill easier to swallow. He said the project could be viewed as "a cafeteria with auditorium attached."

School Committeeman Joseph Finn, however, noted that by the time the plans could be effected, the population bulge would have passed through the high school and there would no longer be a need for extra classrooms.

Chairman David Ahouse said that an auditorium-type facility is presently Number 3 in the committee's capital budgeting plan, slotted for a 1980 time frame.

First, he said, comes a close look at East Jr. High School and second, major maintenance items that have been delayed over the past few years.

King said they wanted the study funds for an architectural study to complete the committee's report to the school board. Perhaps, he said, in the Spring of 1978, they could ask Town Meeting for more substantial planning funds, and then be ready by the Spring of 1979 to ask for the whole project.

However, he said, he would rather put off the project for a year — to 1980 — than risk losing it entirely.

In the case for an auditorium, he noted that assemblies are seldom held in the gymnasium because of poor acoustics and difficulty of maintaining order and because not all students will fit at once. He said most students never hear the band, orchestra or choruses, and that there is no place to hold high school theatre classes and performances.

He said an auditorium could also serve as a place for community activities such as Town Meeting (with a cafeteria below for refreshments), a cultural center for outside artists and groups, a permanent residence and storage facility for the Andover Community Theatre, and a recital facility for the Andover Male Choir, Andover Choral Society and the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society.

He said rental of the facility by outside groups could help offset the cost to the taxpayers, and noted that last year the "Up With People" group looked all over the area for a suitable place to perform and ended up at Merrimack College's skating rink.

He said a large performance facility that could attract groups such as symphonies would in turn enhance the residential desirability of Andover.

In the music area, the report said the high school has inadequate storage for instruments, uniforms, music and props, and limited rehearsal capability. King said many potential fine arts majors don't follow through with their interest because of inadequate facilities, and that cheerleaders, color guards, the Indians, majorettes and small musical groups often have to rehearse in the school corridors for lack of a better place.

"This is distracting," he said, "if you're trying to help a kid with physics after school."

King said that the West Jr. High Auditorium, currently used for some stage performances, is really inadequate for most activities. It takes three sittings to accommodate all of the high school students, for instance, and there's not enough room for parents and kids to view a performance at the same time.

There is also a constant scheduling problem there, King said, because so many outside groups, as well as school groups, use it for various activities. There are also classes in the West auditorium much of every school day, he said.

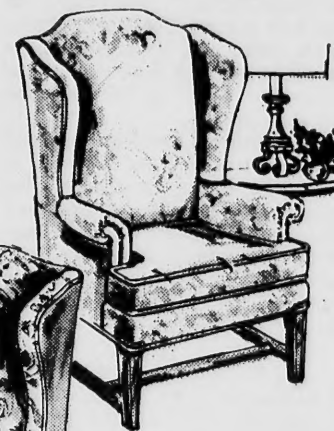

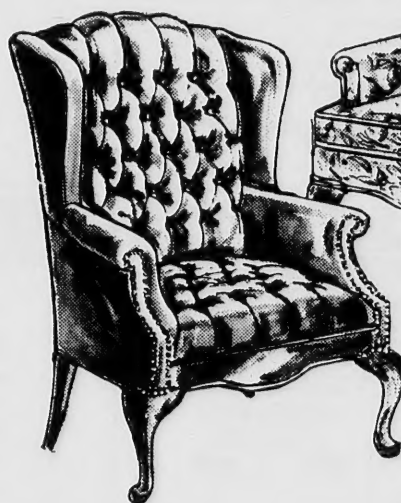

The School committee, once again generally agreeing on the need for some sort of auditorium, voted 4-0 to provide funds for the next step.

Committeeman Alan Doerr was absent.

Friday Programs At Museum

If you attend the Friday night programs at Boston's Museum of Science early this fall, you'll follow a trail that leads from the Red Sea to Shangri-la.

Offered at no charge beyond Friday night reduced admission, the specials begin with the showing of the film, "This Land," Sept. 9 and 16 at 7 and 8 p.m. The film explores the evolution of the North American continent and its natural resources. Films on Australia will be run Sept. 23 and 30 in conjunction with a new exhibition, "Australia: The Fourth Part of the World," which reveals the colorful history of that continent.

A science-fiction film series beginning

Oct. 7 offers one such full length film the first Friday of every month. October's is "Destination Moon," a prophetic story conceived 20 years before the fact about building a moon vehicle. For November 4, the film will be "Silent Running," the ordeal of a scientist who tries to save plant life from a devastated earth toward the day our planet is ready for habitation. For December 2, the famous "Lost Horizon" will again weave its romantic tale of lovers in utopian Shangri-la. All the sci-fi films will be run at 6 and 8 p.m.

October 14's special is yet to be announced. Other programs for the month are a 7:30 p.m. color-slide talk on October 21, "Marine Life of the Red Sea," by diver-photographer Jeff Rotman

Manager's Response To Board Vote

"I have accepted your appointment of me as Andover's Acting Town Manager effective September 2, 1977 with the proviso that should the Board vote to terminate my services as Acting Town Manager I would receive at least a 60-day notice of termination. I have no choice if I wish to be employed.

On April 25, 1977, Selectman Poore publicly read at a Selectmen's meeting a statement which included a thorough commitment by the then four members of the Board of Selectmen, individually and collectively, "that the term of the present Town Manager be extended as of September 2, 1977 for an additional two years..."

"At the next regular meeting of the Board of Selectmen the minutes for that meeting, which included the full Selectmen's statement, were voted on and accepted by the Board of Selectmen.

I accepted that statement for what it said — a full commitment to me and to the townspeople for the four members of the Board, individually and collectively, that my term as Town Manager would be extended for two additional years. In reliance on the strength of that commitment, I declined a second interview in a community where I was one of the three finalists for the position of Town Manager. I also withdrew for a similar position when advised that I was being considered for a first interview and ceased searching for other employment. I believed that my family would be living in Andover for three more summers and, as a result, made substantial improvements to my home.

On August 26, 1977, the Selectmen voted, three to two, not to accept an alternative proposed to them by a recognized authority in municipal law which would have allowed me to continue as Town Manager until September, 1979. Instead of honoring their commitment to me and to the townspeople, the Selectmen voted to make me an Acting Town Manager.

Should various members of the Board feel that there should be a different Town Manager for the Town of Andover, then certainly I do not wish to continue in that capacity. That would not, however, alter the commitment of April 25th; and under such circumstances I would expect the Board to seek and accept a legal process whereby I would be compensated for any loss of wages between the termination of my appointment as Acting Town Manager and September, 1979."

Selectman Harris' Statement

"As one of the selectmen of this town and particularly as one of those elected last March, I believe that I have an obligation to those citizens who voted for me to explain my position relative to the tenure of the Town Manager, Mr. J. Maynard Austin, as represented by a vote taken by the Board of Selectmen on August 30, 1977.

"It will be recalled that at its Regular Meeting on April 25, 1977, the Board of Selectmen issued a statement in which it announced its unanimous opinion that Mr. Austin's three-year appointment expiring on September 2, 1977, be extended for the two additional years necessary to complete the five-year term called for by the town charter (Section 6, Chapter 571 of the Acts of the Massachusetts Legislature of 1956). It was my opinion at the time that this action laid to rest a matter which had been troubling the town for some time and which had been the underlying issue which caused me to run for the office as well as that which brought about other changes in the Board of Selectmen.

"At the Special Meeting of the Board which was held on Tuesday, Aug. 30, 1977, to consider the Town Manager's tenure it was thought necessary to bring the matter to a vote as the Board's action expressed on April 25th had been reached in a conference session, not at a Regular Meeting, although the minutes of the Board's Regular Meeting of May 23d show that the Board approved the minutes of April 25th. As it turned out, the vote taken on August 30th on this matter resulted in a decision to appoint Mr. Austin as Acting Town Manager under the provisions of Section 7 of the town charter. Such an appointment is for an indefinite period, usually pending the appointment of another permanent Town Manager. It is subject to termination at the will of the Board of Selectmen and the provision in the charter that a Town Manager may request a public hearing is not applicable to an Acting Manager.

"It should be stated here that the Board had consulted with a Boston law firm closely linked to the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns for advice on how to handle the matter of the tenure of the Town Manager. As a result, a series of alternative proposals was put forward by the consulting attorney, the basic consideration being that the town charter makes no provision for the appointment of a Town Manager to other than a five-year term. Mr. Austin, of course, had been appointed to a three-year term to expire on September 2, 1977.

"From among the alternative proposals the undersigned selected the one which would carry out the Board's announced intention of making provision for the Town Manager to complete a five-year term ending September 2, 1979, as had previously been announced. This proposal was put into the form of a motion which was closely coordinated with the Boston law firm and which was found to be acceptable to the Town Manager. The key to the motion was the acknowledgement that the previous Board appeared to have made an error in the appointment of the Town Manager for a term other than that specified in the charter however unintentional. Once having been appointed, it had to be assumed that the appointment was for the term of five years, or until September 2, 1979. However, in order to cover possible legal action from any direction, Mr. Austin was to be appointed to the additional position of Acting Town Manager concurrent with his regular term.

"The above motion, however, was not found acceptable to the Board and was turned down by a vote of 3-2. The motion to appoint Mr. Austin simply as Acting Town Manager was then made and approved by a majority vote which the undersigned did not support as in his opinion it represented a retraction by the Board of the agreement made public on April 25th. Nor does the vote in any way remedy the defect which was incurred in appointing Mr. Austin to a term less than that stipulated in the town charter, however well intentioned that action by the 1974 Board may have been.

"While the interests of the town are paramount in such cases, the undersigned also understands that fairness in the treatment of town employees is an important element to be considered and has endeavored to strike a balance between the town. He as well as others, including the Town Manager himself, had believed this matter settled back in April. It was very disappointing indeed to discover at the eleventh hour that it continues to be made a political issue by those who would dispense with the Town Manager's services before the completion of a five-year term.

"This letter is being written in an attempt to make clear the issues involved as well as the fact that the undersigned did not support this action of the Board of Selectmen."

Maternity Leave Request Tabled

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 8, 1977

In personnel-related action Tuesday night, the school committee tabled Janet Sakelakos' request for a maternity leave of absence until the matter can be discussed further with her, made a few new appointments and approved a host of resignations.

The committee balked at the maternity leave for Mrs. Sakelakos, because she has asked that it commence October 17 for the rest of the school year.

Business Manager Edward Maguire said the Shawsheen teacher was encouraged last spring to take leave for the entire school year, rather than start the year and leave soon after.

Maguire said that he had pointed out the educational inconveniences, and the fact that her leaving could be rather traumatic for children of this age (6th grade) only six weeks into the school year.

However, he said, under the teacher's contract, he really didn't feel the committee had much option than to go along with her request.

Casimir Kolaski, speaking "as one who fought very hard to keep teachers at Shawsheen School for continuity's sake," said that if there was anything in the contract that allowed the committee to start her leave sooner, he would vote for it.

Chairman David Ahouse, who called her action "in poor taste," asked if there were a way to note the "lack of consideration for the children" in her folder.

A teacher here since November, 1975, she does not yet have tenure, though Maguire said her record indicates she has been a very effective teacher. He said she wouldn't submit her request for leave to the central office, however, "until this point in time." The request was received after the last committee meeting.

Maguire also called "very disturbing" the resignation of Deborah Boles of Dedham, who had been hired to teach math at West Jr. High. She had accepted a contract on Aug. 19, then submitted her resignation on Aug. 29.

Elementary.

The contract of Allen S. Young, a bus driver since 1972, was also terminated, effective Aug. 4, for personal reasons.

The committee approved the creation of a new occupational coordinator position, subject to receipt of federal funding and increased the work year of the secretary to the pupil personnel administrator from 50 to 52 weeks.

Seifert said the latter move is in keeping with an effort to put all secretaries on 40 or 52-week years.

Appointments for the new school year include Genevieve Canavan, school nurse at Bancroft and South; Gary Chadwell, instructional aide at Bancroft, in special needs; Sandy Churbuck, special needs instructional aide at Shawsheen; Mary Dow, instructional aide, special needs, at Bancroft; Shelley Nannin, instructional aide, special needs, at West Jr. High; Wendy Sprattler, instructional aide, special needs, at West Elementary; and Barbara Ziegenbein, media aide at East Jr. High. Charles Wettergren, an English teacher at the high school, was appointed yearbook advisor at an extra stipend of $525 a year, and Paul Fitzgerald of Winchester was appointed to a special needs position at West Jr. High, pending receipt of federal funds.

Caernarvon

Caernarvon we found has several different spellings in Anglicising the Celtic name. Maps and brochures of Wales find it spelled Caernarfon. No matter how one spells it, the town is very appealing and merits much more time than we were allotted in our visit.

Dominating the scene is Caernarvon Castle which dates back to the 13th century when Edward I of England commissioned its construction. It was part of the power play symbolizing a firm English footing in Wales. Strategically, it controlled the Menai Strait where the river Seiont flows into the sea.

As our motorcoach drove up to where once stood the drawbridge spanning a now grassed-over moat, we found waiting for us. The town officials and an entourage of other dignitaries of Gwynedd County.

Mrs. Megan Bonner Pritchard, Mayor of the Royal Town of Caernarvon and the town's first lady mayor in 700 years, was resplendently attired in an appealing melon colored suit with a rolled back brim chapeau of the same color. Standing beside her in a similar outfit, this one green, was her daughter the Lady Mayoress, youthful and with it. Mr. I. B. Griffith, Chairman of the Gwynedd County Council and Mr. Harlech Jones, Mayor of Arfon Borough Council headed the group of journalists, chairmen and directors assembled to say a warm hello to us.

Mayor Pritchard proudly wore her gold collar of office, as do all mayors. We recalled that when the mayor of Andover, England visited the TOWNSMAN office several years ago, he also wore his collar. It is the badge of office. Mayor Pritchard's collar is something special though. Her's is made up of medallions each of which represents a Prince of Wales since the first was so designated. These larger medallions are joined by smaller ones bearing the three feathers, the Princes' emblem.

Just as the greetings were winding down and we were about to march into the castle, a member of our party inadvertently dropped a Kodak film package into the dry moat. Our member allowed that she didn't come to this beautiful area to litter whereupon the Lady Mayoress said she would climb the iron fence surrounding the moat in a minute if she had her jeans on. The new age. An accommodating and long-legged guide promptly retrieved the offending yellow box. Now we trooped through the gate which once denied entry with a portcullis, no longer there.

By this time we had seen many castles. Wales abounds with them, reminders of struggles for power and riches in the dim past. Superbly kept and maintained, Caernarvon Castle's special significance is that it is the site of the investiture of the Prince of Wales. It was here on July 1, 1969 that

H.R.H. Prince Charles became the 21st Prince of Wales. Of course, it doesn't serve this purpose all that often. It was back in 1911 that Edward VIII, the king who abdicated his throne for "the woman I love", received his title.

In the north ward we stood on the circular, slate platform where the formal investiture takes place. Afterwards we were guided over neatly tended lawns to the Eagle Tower and later the Queen's Tower which held our attention particularly. This tower houses the regimental museum of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers. The Fusiliers have a rich tradition of performance in all of England's wars.

Times certainly change. We were told that upon its completion the castle cost the English 12,000 pounds, equivalent to 1,200,000 pounds by today's standards. The work represented, the massiveness, the stone masonry probably couldn't be reproduced at any price in this day and age.

An aside we all enjoyed developed when the custodian of the castle asked someone in our party if she knew Barbara Walters? Our lady said she had seen her many times on the tube but didn't really know her. "Well", said the guide, "many of my relatives emigrated to America, to Ohio, and I wondered if she might be a relative?" Then it was noted that the guide's name tag bore the name Walters, indeed. But it turned out they were not related.

Our hosts had a sumptuous luncheon prepared for us in Llanberis at the Victoria Hotel and there the talk got down to a question which affects all of the United Kingdom. Here, as we chatted, we tackled the gray question of devolution with various officials. The word kept cropping up and it has a disquieting tone to it. The term itself means a devolving or passing from one person to his successor. In biology it is a degeneration. Of course, we could just skim the surface of this pressing question. One doesn't become authoritative on English problems in 18 days, or 18 years for that matter. Basically, it boiled down to the Welsh and the Scots wanting more say in the decision making process. "Yes, that's it," said one gentleman we spoke with.

The English system of government differs from ours. Parliament at Westminster serves as the national governing body, the House of Commons and the House of Lords. Wales and Scotland have different systems of laws, a different judiciary, different educational systems and different systems of local government. Each have a Secretary of State. It sounded as if, under the present governmental set-up, the Welsh and Scots were not receiving the close attention they feel they merit and demand from Westminster. Both the Welsh and the Scots have their Members of Parliament but it doesn't seem to solve the problem.

This Fall legislation is being introduced which will greatly extend the decision making from London. The Government is proposing the establishment of elected assemblies for Scotland and Wales, in Edinburgh and Cardiff respectively.

We wanted to know if any of this talk augured separation? "Never!", a high official told us in Scotland. "The people in the street wouldn't hear of it." said a Welshman. Another view stated "It will all probably come to a compromise and wind up costing us more money," or words to that effect. It will be interesting to watch and see what happens in the next few months.

As we departed the Royal Victoria bound through Snowdonia National Park for Manchester, Mayor Pritchard and the Lady Mayoress stood outside and waved goodbye. The study mission made warm friends in Caernarvon and we met delightful people.

Snowdonia

The van fad, so pronounced in this country, exists in Britain too. There they are called caravans and were numerous in the park. Here are the mountains of Wales, topped by Mount Snowdon, 3,756 ft. Though their tallest peak is little more than half the altitude of our Mount Washington, it seems to soar into the heavens. This is partly because the valley floor doesn't rise with the mountain's elevation as it does in Pinkham Notch, for instance.

This is great rock climbing and picnic country. It was Sunday and high on the rocky tors we could see the climbers at their sport. Moving along through the valley of the Snowdon Range, high up we saw several dams built there to impound the waters and produce energy in the form of electricity. After turning the dynamos, these waters spill into the lovely Llynns (lakes) below.

Just before leaving the range we passed a small inn snugly nestled in a vale. It was here that Sir Edmund Hillary's team of climbers lived as they trained for their successful assault on Mount Everest. Most of their rock work was done on Snowdon. We were told that team members had inscribed their names on the ceiling of the taproom. Unfortunately, the time schedule did not permit our stopping. We wanted to see if the famous Sherpa porter's name, Tenzing Norgay, was there. It was he who accompanied Sir Edmund to be the first at the top of the world.

Leaving the Snowdon Range behind us we made our way out of Wales, crossing the border in the vicinity of Chester. Most everyone looked here for the famous Roman Wall which divided the island from one coast to the other. But, we had to save that sight for another time.

It was strange to observe as we were leaving the land of the Welsh and moving into the famous English Midlands that a very noticeable change became visually evident. Across the border one could actually see a greater prosperity. The homes, the environment bespoke better conditions.

We regretfully took leave of Wales and left behind a warm, proud and friendly people. Not many cars, simple homes but clean and well maintained. Fields tended and everything in repair. It is little wonder that the tourist industry in Wales is a 200 million pound a year business!

Next IPSM takes the high road to the scenic land of the Scots where we learn about the high hopes attached to North Sea oil and natural gas production, also about a well known product of Scotland: whiskey.

Wednesday Story Time

Because of the Wednesday morning programs on "Creative Cuisine," at the Stevens Memorial Library, there will be a storytime held in the Children's Room for children of mothers who are attending these programs.

All mothers who would like their children to attend this story program while they are in the program must register their child in the Children's Room on or before Sept. 19. If there are any spaces left for children whose parents are not attending the program, parents may register their child on Sept. 20 in the Children's Room.

All children must be 3½ years old or older to attend these story programs.

Portraits Presented

This summer, the Essex Institute of Salem was the grateful recipient of an oil on canvas portrait, of Judge Benjamin Lynde (1667-1745) of Salem, the gift of Mr. Rodman C. Rockefeller of New York City.

An early 18th-century work, the painting is attributed to the unidentified Pollard Limner. It joins a distinguished group of portraits from this period in the Institute's Portrait Gallery in Plummer Hall.

Leash Law

must be kept on a leash no longer than six feet in length when not on its own property. An animal shelter fee of $45 per day was to be charged for dogs picked up in violation of the law and a $15 administration charge for bylaw violation. Voters also approved a budget of $17,500 to implement the new law.

White feels the selectmen should put the matter back on the October meeting agenda, but indications are they will not. At a meeting a week ago at the Water Treatment plant, the matter was discussed briefly by the board, with an indication that if the bylaw was turned down by the attorney general, they would not put it in the October warrant on their own.

Selectmen have a stipulation whereby they can place items in the warrant without signatures.

White said Wednesday that he felt the selectmen had an obligation to place the matter before the voters again, based on the wish expressed by the annual town meeting.

"If they won't go forward, then I will," White said, which virtually assures there will be a quorum for the October session, should the leash law make the agenda.

Approved by the attorney general were other votes of the annual town meeting which changed bylaws of the town, including the advertising of special town meeting warrant 14 days prior to the meeting, rather than the present seven days; extension of the bylaw requiring removal of snow from in front of business places from the central business district to include the Shawsheen area as well.

Also approved by the attorney general's office were bylaws changing the date of the October town meeting from the first Monday to whenever the selectmen choose to set the date, authorizing the selectmen to set fee schedules and to allow the selectmen to appoint the Andover representative to the Merrimack Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Mrs. David R. Black

Black - Sabbagh

Marilyn Sabbagh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Sabbagh, 63 Lucerne Dr., Andover, became the bride Saturday of David R. Black. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Black of Norwood.

The Rev. J. Edson Pike and the Rev. John Morris of Reading officiated at the 5:30 p.m. ceremony at Christ Church, Andover. A reception followed at the Andover Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding gown which was designed and made by her great-grandmother in 1908. It featured a high-necked bodice and Gibson Girl sleeves fashioned of Irish lace over a pinched waist, an Irish fillet skirt and satin underskirt. The lower skirt was enhanced by alternate rows of scalloped French val and Brussell's lace which formed a chapel train.

She wore her mother's headpiece of Brussel's lace, wax orange blossoms and silk tulle, and carried a colonial bouquet of light yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Lynn Sabbagh attended as maid of honor, wearing a gown of matte Jersey in jade green. She wore a single chiffon flower of mint green in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and orange flowers.

Stephen Black of Norwood served as his brother's best man, and ushers included another brother, Richard Black of Norwood, and the bride's brother, Edward M. Sabbagh of Andover.

The bride's cousins, Evelyn and Nina Saliba, presided at the guest book.

Picnic

The Marriage Encounter family picnic will be held on Sunday, Sept. 18 at the Recreation Park in Andover from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Bring your lunch and join the fun and games! There will be a Mass at 12 noon.

Mrs. Sabbagh chose a full-length Reding-cote gown in mint green with seed pearl collar and cuffs for her daughter's wedding, and wore a white orchid. The groom's mother wore a full-length gown of open blue, and orchids.

Among the guests were Mrs. Louis J. Farrah, great-aunt of the bride, who was a member of the wedding party in 1908. Mrs. Katherine M. Kelley, the groom's grandmother, also attended, and both were presented with orchid corsages.

The new Mrs. Black graduated from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in 1974 as a reading specialist and has been teaching at East Jr. High School in Andover. Earlier this month she received her master's degree in education, degree in counselling and guidance from Salem State. Her husband, also a graduate of UMass-Amherst in 1974, is a health agent for the Winchester Board of Health, and will begin work on his MBA degree at Suffolk University this fall.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, they will be at home in Melrose.

Christian Women's Club Meets

The Merrimack Valley Christian Women's Club will hold its monthly morning coffee meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 13 at the Andover Country Club from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The guest speaker, Alison Towle, a native of North Reading who now resides in Sudbury, will share some of her life experiences. She is the mother of six children as well as a beauty consultant who has been active in Christian Women's Club affairs.

The special feature guest speaker will be Joyce Signore who is the owner of a specialty shop entitled Gourmet Wares which is located in Chelmsford. She will present the use and function of some of the unusual items which one will find at Gourmet Wares.

Music will be provided by soloist Lillian Caldor.

The Merrimack Valley Christian Women's Club is one of 1600 world wide clubs without dues or membership. All are invited to attend and free nursery services are available.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. George Hansen of Methuen.

Salad Buffet Planned

Members and guests of the Andover-Georgetown Branch of the American Association of University Women will kick off the 1977-78 season with the annual salad buffet to be held in the women's dormitory of Merrimack College, North Andover, on Thursday, Sept. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be a preview of activities for the year ahead; monthly meetings, study groups, cultural events, and new AAUW topics which are women as agents of change, the politics of food, and redefining the goals of education. Chairmen of arrangements for the meeting are Miss Kathleen Callagy of Lawrence and Mrs. Rosemary Gatti of Lowell.

Since its foundation in 1882 AAUW members have worked for women's suffrage, inclusion of women in diplomatic service, election and appointment of women to public office, ending discrimination in inheritance laws, jury service, and property rights, and, more recently, ratification of ERA. The AAUW fellowships Program began in 1888 and is the oldest and largest non-university program of graduate fellowships for U. S. women. Branch programs are geared to current cultural, educational, political, and socio-economic interests as well as specific issues and concerns of women today.

New members are always welcome and those interested in AAUW membership are invited to contact Mrs. Robert Gilman of Lowell or Mrs. Alfred Lopes of Bradford.

Haying In Essex

"Salt Marsh Haying in Essex County 1635-1935" is a special exhibit at the Peabody Museum of Salem through October. It includes tools and implements from 300 years of reaping hay in the salt marshes, with a continual slide show of the process that became an agricultural art.

To Attend St. Paul's

Edith Harris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. Randolph Harris, Dorset Circle, Andover, will be among the new students arriving at St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., Sept. 14.

Migrating birds probably indicated land areas to early explorers. The flight of the golden plover between Bering Strait and South Pacific islands may have alerted the Tahitians to the existence of Hawaii. The Azores are named for hawks (acores) which the Portuguese probably followed west, Massachusetts Audubon tells us. The wheatear, a thrush that migrates between Europe and North America, may have been noticed by the Vikings.

Migrating birds probably indicated land areas to early explorers. The flight of the golden plover between Bering Strait and South Pacific islands may have alerted the Tahitians to the existence of Hawaii. The Azores are named for hawks (acores) which the Portuguese probably followed west, Massachusetts Audubon tells us. The wheatear, a thrush that migrates between Europe and North America, may have been noticed by the Vikings.

Search On For Great Pumpkin

An intensive search is in progress for a Bay State winner to compete in the national "Great Pumpkin Contest."

Entries from local farmers and gardeners are being enlisted by the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture for the competition sponsored by Delta Air Lines.

The national challenge is an outgrowth

Mrs. Marilyn Pfaff of Colorado attended as her matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mary Wesolowski of Andover, and Susan Guziejka of Lowell.

Charles Pfaff of Colorado served as the groom's best man, and ushers included Robert Suprenant of Manchester, N. H., and John Murphy of Andover.

The new Mrs. Murphy, a graduate of Andover High School and Northern Essex Community College is a buyer for Computer Co. in Bedford. Her husband, also a graduate of Andover High and of St. Anselm's in Manchester, teaches science in the Chelmsford School System.

of a heated two state contest last fall, in which Massachusetts trounced Georgia by a healthy 46½ pounds, clearly demonstrating the superiority of the Bay State's farmland.

Informed Department sources said Georgia farm officials are combing the peanut state for a pumpkin that will reaffirm their agricultural prowess.

A display of Massachusetts' pumpkin power will be assembled at Faneuil Hall Marketplace in Boston, during the week of Sept. 19. The heaviest contender will be flown to Manchester, N. H. for the national finals at a meeting of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture Sept. 27.

The winner of the national contest will be awarded a prize befitting the grower of the greatest pumpkin in the U. S., while other entries will be donated to children's hospitals for use as Jack-o-lanterns during the Halloween season.

All parties with information on the whereabouts of Great Pumpkins suitable for the contest, are urged to write the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture at 100 Cambridge Street, Boston 02202, or phone the Department at (617) 727-3018 or 727-3031.

Resource Center Being Established

Forge (Forum for Renewal, Growth and Exploration) is a new resource center being established to serve the people of Andover and surrounding communities by providing opportunities for renewal, growth and exploration.

Now in the process of incorporating and seeking program funding, Forge plans to direct its efforts to initiating, implementing, and promoting education, service and research programs designed to foster personal growth and strengthen the family unit.

"There's a great unmet need — nationally as well as locally — in providing the support programs essential to our 'average' families, those who make this country work," says Dr. Otis Maxfield, resident director for Forge. "And that's what Forge is all about; we're working to fill the void."

Seed money to establish Forge was provided by the Smith-Purdon Fund of the West Parish Church. The fund was established through a parishioner's bequest and is earmarked for community programs to benefit the Greater Lawrence area. Forge is non-sectarian as well as non-profit.

A principal in founding Forge is Dr. Otis Maxfield, pastor of the West Parish Church, who previously established a marriage counseling center in Springfield, Mass., and a comprehensive counseling center in Columbus, Ohio, while serving as a Congregational minister. Dr. Maxfield was later both director and director of counselor training for the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry. Licensed to practice psychotherapy in Mass., he holds bachelor's degrees in education and sacred theology and a Ph.D. in psychology and took post-doctoral training at the C. J. Jung Institute in Zurich, Switzerland.

Dr. Maxfield is also currently chairman of Mandala Continuum, Inc. and vice-president of Billington, Fox and Ellis, Inc. consulting corporations in organizational development and executive selection, as well as a consultant on human resources and employee relations to Questor Corporation.

The first Forge program to be put into operation, according to Board Chairman Warren A. (Bud) Lewis, will be the Exchange Series — community workshops bringing prominent men and women to Andover to share their views on current issues and social problems. Fall speakers will be Arthur Taylor, former president of CBS, now active in international banking and finance, and Reginald Jones, chairman and chief executive officer for General Electric and a member of President Carter's energy advisory council.

Future plans call for the establishment of teen and adult counseling services, with both individual counseling and programs in family interaction and the role of the single parent. Forge also hopes to establish an overnight facility on the site of the former Holt farm on Reservation Road in Andover, which will provide emergency housing and therapeutic work opportunities and the opportunity for close personal interaction to those in crisis. That facility would also provide housing for participants in weekend or week-long seminars and for a scholar-in-residence program that would host artists, writers and social scholars who could contribute to and benefit from community resources.

"Forge programs will strive to stimulate and give new perspective and new thoughts and ideas to men and women wrestling with the changing fabric of our culture and society in a way that makes sense to them personally," says Lewis.

Members of the Board of Directors for Forge include Chairman Lewis, vice-president of the Boston office of Weeden and Co.; Secretary Eleanor B. Campbell, Reading Department secretary for the Andover Schools, author and historian; Treasurer Glen Gulezian, optometrist; V. David Rodgers, executive director of the International Institute in Lawrence;

Priscilla C. Seewald, master's candidate and community worker; Robert L. Merrill, manager of operations control for Incoterm; Virginia Maxfield, teacher and homemaker; and Dr. Maxfield.

"Contemplation is an important part of everyday life," says Father William McNamara, who will be conducting an open workshop at the West Parish Church fellowship hall, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, September 11, as part of the Forge Exchange Series.

Father McNamara is a Carmelite priest and founder of the Spiritual Life Institute in Sedona, Arizona. He is also the author of The Human Adventure and The Art of Being Human.

The Spiritual Life Institute, founded by Father McNamara under a mandate from Pope John XXIII, is dedicated to "the exploration of a practical theology in our age of advancing technology and the development of a contemplative spirit in our harried, hurried society." The institute operates two contemplative centers, the Nada Ranch in the desert of Sedona and a wilderness hermitage, Nova Nada, in Nova Scotia.

Youngsters in the Standish Circle area of Andover spent the summer months building a city, utilizing scrap wood, blocks and other available material. Their efforts resulted in quite elaborate display of ingenuity. Among the participants in the project, at left, from left, Evan Darling, Mellissa Coco, Christen James, Sara Mosely, Leigh Wragg, Michael Coco, Eric Wragg, Kenny Oshan, Geoffrey Wragg, surrounding their interpretation of a general hospital. # Purchase Plan Decision To Be Under Study

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 8, 1977

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert Tuesday night withdrew a request for temporary personnel to help cope with the new purchasing procedures — at least until the school committee can discuss the matter with selectmen in a joint session Tuesday night.

Seifert said that since the central purchasing office took charge of all purchasing in July, a great deal of confusion has erupted, as well as a mountain of paperwork that is taking valuable time away from school personnel's regular jobs.

For instance, he said Plant Engineer Al Hart recently spent three days preparing bid specifications for a tile job that ultimately cost $370.

Seifert recommended that selectmen agree to phase into the new program gradually, or that extra personnel be added to help the school department cope.

"Business manager Edward Maguire estimated that the highest 'start-up costs' could be about $70,000, but added, if they were going to spend that much, cost savings would be minimal 'if they exist at all.'"

Seifert added, however, that when the purchasing function is moved outside an organization, there are going to be things that don't run smoothly, and he said the schools may only be experiencing "normal adjustment."

Once the start-up procedures get locked into place, he said, things will run more smoothly.

Maguire, however, said that it will probably take one or two "cycles" — that is one or two years.

Committee Chairman David Ahouse said the initial implementation of the purchasing office has made him "very uneasy" and that he still doesn't have an understanding of its total magnitude.

Committeeman Joseph Finn asked if the whole thing were a "wash" to comply with the state law, which says that all purchases over $250 must be made competitively.

Finn favored going ahead and appointing temporary help, bid specification writers and clerk-typists, and the committee generally agreed that help will still be needed, even after a meeting with the selectmen.

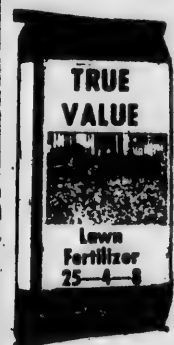

However, the feeling seemed to prevail that they should talk with the selectmen before making a commitment, and Seifert withdrew his request.

The Language of Flowers

by Gerry Trull

Draw a desert scene in shifting sand with long knitting needles and a clear container. Creating a sandscape for cacti and succulents is easier than you think. Buy several bags of colored sand of the finer grain. The finer the grain, the less chance it will run together. Start with gravel in a dune in the center, add charcoal and potting soil. Pour the colored sand along the sides and twist to level layers. (Keep soil in center). Insert needle vertically at sides to draw your design and then experiment horizontally for mountains and valleys. A top layer of soil over the sand and around the plants, a drink of water and your sandscape is ready for viewing.

At TRULL'S MILL HILL FLOWER CENTER, 411 River Road, 851-6161 you'll find plants, flowers and arrangements for every occasion. Family owned, we have been serving the Lowell-Lawrence area for over 25 years and are well-known for our expertise in floral design. # High Holidays To Be Observed

By Rabbi Harry A. Roth

As Jewish people throughout the world face the New Year, 5738, they do so in a universe seemingly in constant turmoil. The years continue to move ahead, but together with others, inevitably fail in efforts to regain for this world any semblance of normalcy. These High Holidays come to urge, in spite of obvious failures, to try to change the pattern of life to free fears and tension and to concentrate on Tikun Olam, the re-establishment of a just, of a righteous, of a good world.

These "Days of Awe" come as an annual reminder for Jewish people and for all people who would heed the call, to strive to eliminate all the evil which profanes the world. In the ages, past, as well as in present, more than enough horror and terror, evil and wrongdoing, want and hunger has been witnessed to convince that if the world is to continue to exist it must reflect more and more the goodness which God intended and the harrowing experience now so prevalent must cease once and for all.

The High Holy Days come to urge re-evaluation of the goals of our own lives, and to strive to eliminate the hypocrisy and injustice which pervade the halls of international diplomacy. These days cry out in clear tones — enough of deceit and destruction, it is time for decency and dedication.

As the Jewish people throughout the world begin to celebrate Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, 5738, hearts and prayers are directed heavenward, hopeful that supplications will turn all of us, Jew and non-Jew alike towards the path which will lead to understanding and peace.

May we all be moved by the words, "Seek the Lord while He may be found. Call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake their ways, Let them return to the Lord who will show them mercy, and to our God, for he will graciously pardon."

May this be a year of health and happiness and peace for all mankind.

The Temple president, Atty. Gerald M. Lewis, together with Paul Chedekl, chairman of the Ritual Committee have made the following schedule of services available. Services will be conducted by the Temple Rabbi, Harry A. Roth, together with Cantor Irving Shuman, and the Temple Choir.

Recording Of Great Organ To Be Released In Fall

Organ virtuoso Michael Murray and an engineering team from Advent Recording Corporation produced two direct-to-disk recordings of the Great Organ in the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, Methuen in July.

Scheduled for release this fall under the Telarc Records label will be an album of organ music by composers Benedetto Marcello, Charles Marie Widor, Louis Vierne, Sigfried Karg-Elert and Marcel Dupre. A subsequent release will be of organ music by Cesar Franck.

The organ, now located in the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, was originally built for the Boston Music Hall. E. F. Walcker and Company of Ludwigsburg, Germany constructed the instrument during the period from February 1857 to October 1863. Merged with a magnificent walnut case of American design and replete with intricate carvings, the "Great Organ" was inaugurated on November 2, 1863. It was the first concert organ in the United States and served as the focus of musical life in Boston until the summer of 1884, when it was removed from the hall to allow more stage space for the then recently founded Boston Symphony Orchestra.

After 13 years of storage, the organ was purchased in 1897 by Edward F. Searles, a cultured and wealthy resident of Methuen. Searles' devotion to organs in general and admiration of this instrument in particular led to the construction of Serlo Organ Hall to provide the visual and acoustical setting for the organ that he felt it deserved. The edifice was designed by the English architect Henry Vaughan and is probably the only instance in history in which a hall of such proportions and magnificence has been built for the sole purpose of housing an organ. On December 9, 1909, the organ, equipped with new windchests, action and console by the Methuen Organ Company, was dedicated.

Following the death of Mr. Searles in 1920, ownership of the hall passed through various hands. In 1946, a group of area residents incorporated to acquire title to the property, raise the associated funds by public subscription and maintain the building as a cultural center. The structure was renamed the Methuen Memorial Music Hall. Subsequently, the corporation commissioned G. Donald Harrison of the Aeolian-Skinner Organ Company to undertake an extensive tonal reconstruction of the organ and modernization of the console. The rebuilt organ was dedicated yet a second time on June 24, 1947. A set of chorus reeds for the Great division of the organ was installed in 1970 and 1971 by the Andover Organ Company.

Currently, the four manual organ consists of 84 stops, 115 ranks and 8065 pipes. It is now a more musical medium than ever before in its long and distinguished history and is recognized as one of the truly outstanding organs in America.

Michael Murray is music director of Heights Christian Church in Cleveland, Ohio. He is also municipal organist at the Cleveland Public Auditorium where he presides at the recently restored immense Ernest M. Skinner organ.

Murray studied organ, improvisation, harmony, counterpoint and piano with the late Marcel Dupre in Paris from 1962 to 1964. He performed the complete organ works of Bach in 12 recitals at Cleveland during 1968-1969; being one of the youngest organists (born 1943) to have completed this monumental feat. He has made three European concert tours with appearances in Holland, France, Germany, Switzerland, Lebanon and Italy. Audiences and critics alike were unanimous in their praise of his musicianship. The Switzerland newspaper, Berner Zeitung, described Mr. Murray as "a virtuoso for whom technical difficulties of any kind simply do not seem to exist at all."

Advent Recording Corporation of Cleveland has several records by Murray in its catalog. Previous albums have been of Cesar Franck organ works at St. Meinrad Archabbey, St. Meinrad, Ind.; French organ music at Grace Cathedral, San Francisco; Bach on the von Beckerath organ at First Congregational Church, Columbus, Ohio; and compositions by Marcel Dupre at the Basilique Notre-Dame du Cap, Quebec. Soon to be released is a recording on one of the famed Cavaille-Coll organs of France.

Advent has recently received critical acclaim for the engineering on a recording by Lorin Maazel and the Cleveland Orchestra. This record was the first stereophonic recording of a full orchestra using the direct-to-disk, process.

Legality And Morality

Legal problems — phooey!

There is little which has happened within the past week with regard to the tenure of Town Manager J. Maynard Austin which can convince us that the whole problem of his continuance in office revolves around legal problems.

At a meeting a week ago Tuesday the board on a three to two vote disapproved continuing Austin in office for another two years, a commitment they made in April of this year.

By a four to one vote, Austin was made acting town manager with a proviso that he would receive at least a 60 day notice if the board wished to terminate his services.

In the process of explanation, it is pointed out that the charter stipulates that the manager be appointed for a five year term. The previous board of selectmen appointed Austin to a three year term which expired on Sept. 2. In April of this year four members of the present board of selectmen unanimously said that the manager would be continued in office for the remainder of the two years, thus completing a five year term.

What happened last week is that the majority of the board reneged on its commitment of April 25 and announced publicly at a selectmen's meeting.

Legal interpretations notwithstanding, the board has a moral obligation to honor their commitment.

The issue of Austin's administrative practices is not a consideration at this point.

It comes down to whether the board chooses to honor what it said it would do last April — extend the contract — or keep the manager dangling.

Austin's tenure here has been at issue for over a year now.

He was apparently told a year ago June that his contract would not be renewed.

A decision of the previous board of selectmen, announced in January of this year, formalized the matter when they said by a four-one majority, Selectman Richard Bowen opposed, he would not continue beyond the end of his contract.

The electorate changed the membership of the board of selectmen in March, following the manager's tenure being dragged through the campaign.

Three members of the former board were no longer involved in the appointment matter.

Susan T. Poore, who made the motion not to renew

Austin's contract in January, became chairman after the March election, and had announced that with a new board, possibly "Mr. Austin's performance on the job will, in fact, merit a different conclusion in the coming months."

Mrs. Poore, as chairman of the board, announced the decision at the April 25 meeting which said in essence, that the four members were of the unanimous opinion that the Austin term be extended for another two years to complete a five year contract.

Suddenly, as the time approached to officially act on the matter, the "legal problems" surfaced.

At the risk of engendering feelings among members of the bar, we would have to judge Andover as being a scrimmage area for barristers, based on events of these past few years, including school department involvement.

The portion of the charter involved in the latest legal scrimmage involves interpretation, and as such, can be viewed differently, according to one's observation of the law.

One interpretation had it that the appointment could be continued for another two years, as long as the manager was agreeable, which he apparently was to a three-year pact.

The waters were tested on granting a five year appointment to Austin and this didn't find favor.

The two year extension was supported by selectmen, Albert Cole and Edward Harris, who were elected in March on the basis of their support for Austin.

Since the April 25 vote, Austin asked to be withdrawn from consideration in two communities in which he was an active, finalist candidate for appointment as manager.

There remains the moral obligation for the present board to honor their commitment, or, tell the town why they otherwise will not continue Austin's term.

Austin has accepted the acting manager position and advised the board that should they wish to terminate his services, he would through legal process, seek wages due him through September, 1979, based on the April 25 vote.

Maybe, before long, national television will replace Monday night football, with Andover's legal problems, relying on Howard Cosell to announce the special forensic teams on the field.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — September, 1902

E. L. Perley, agent at the Boston and Maine depot, accompanied the railroad agents on their annual excursion which this year had for its destination Montreal and Thousand Islands. The trip started Tuesday and will last until the weekend.

The new dining hall at Phillips Academy promises to be one of the most attractive and artistically furnished buildings in Andover or vicinity. The hardwood floors and handsome oak furniture with beautiful pillars and handsome walls will make the place a delight to the eye. Everything in connection with the cooking department will be entirely in keeping with the times.

Dr. J. P. Torrey has now in operation his X-ray machine with a much stronger current obtained from the Andover Electric Co. wires. The machine is exactly like that in use at Massachusetts General hospital. He has found it excellent in the reduction of swellings.

The Tigers of Andover would like to arrange football games with other teams in the vicinity with a weight per player limit of 125 pounds. Those interested should contact William Donahue on Marland Street.

Thomas F. Dole of the International Paper Co., Lawrence has leased the W.H. Gile house on Main street. Mr. Gile leaves Tuesday with his family on the Ivernia, for an extended tour abroad.

The Andover Garden Club was organized last Tuesday at a meeting held in Christ church with Mrs. Nathaniel A. Bartlett president. A constitution, dues and program were discussed. Mrs. William H. Jaquith was elected president.

Eugene J. Lovely, coach of the Punchard High athletic teams, returned from his summer sojourn in Maine this week and announced candidates for the football team would be called out next Monday. Much of last year's team was lost through graduation. The schedule opens against Rockport, either at the Playstead or in Shawsheen on Sept. 24.

Students return to Phillips Academy from all points on the map, with a capacity enrollment of 620 boys registering. Samuel F.B. Morse hall is rapidly being completed in honor of the school's 150th year.

Rain dampened the weekend Shawsheen tennis tournament but it is certain that a Bernardin will be in the finals. Reaching the semi-finals this week due to face each other are E. and F. Bernardin.

Miss Margaret Honchcliff, assistant to the teacher in 1923 has been named to succeed Miss Portia Clough as home economics teacher at Punchard High which welcomed back the largest enrollment in history this week with 291 registered the first day.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Liddy's Life in Jail

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Behind prison walls, G. Gordon Liddy is known among his fellow inmates as "Watergate Liddy." He has been the silent man of Watergate. His fellow conspirators have written books and given lectures about their part in the nation's worst political scandal. But Liddy has remained mute.

He is a strange, tenacious man, with a "Groucho Marx" mustache and a stoic disposition. Once, he started out to gun me down. Fortunately, Watergate figure Jeb Magruder headed him off before he reached my office.

Another time, Liddy sought some exotic poisons from a CIA doctor to use against me. I was fortunate again. The doctor refused to give him the poisons.

Incidents like these gave Liddy a reputation as Watergate's tough guy. But there's another, human story that should be told about him.

Liddy received the longest prison sentence of any of the Watergate gang. The sentence was unfair, but it didn't shake him.

As his prison term dragged on, he received word from home that his family was having a difficult time. Without Liddy to pay the bills, the family couldn't make ends meet. Several months ago, they almost had their gas and telephone service shut off because of the unpaid bills.

But Liddy's friends quietly came to the rescue. Donald Santarelli, a former top Justice Dept. official, organized a fund-raising effort to bail out the Liddy family.

The grateful Liddy wrote Santarelli a warm, confidential letter which reveals the human side of "Watergate Liddy."

"Fran tells me," Liddy wrote, "that when you visited her earlier this month, she was within days of having both the gas and the phone shut off. Your very generous gift meant a very great deal to her and our children."

"I don't forget things like that, and you can imagine how much it means to a man in prison when someone helps his loved ones when he no longer can."

"I suspect, my friend, that you were not alone in your mission, and I have a pretty good idea who the major suspects are ... So I will ask you not only to accept my thanks and deepest gratitude but to permit me to thank, through you, the other benefactors of my family."

Then Liddy added a final, poignant line: "I hope to be able to thank you and all my other friends personally soon."

Nix on Max: Last year, Congress voted to stop funding a futuristic, Air Force computer system known as "Project Max." But the brass hats secretly continued spending money on the $800 million project anyway.

It began to look as if the Air Force might finish the job and develop the computer system without congressional knowledge. But last April, two congressmen got wind of what was happening.

Democrats John Moss of California and Charles Rose of North Carolina investigated. They produced evidence that Project Max was continuing — in violation of congressional orders. They lambasted the effort as a "classic example of contempt" for Congress.

Now we have learned the Air Force followed up with its own investigation. The report has just been completed.

The Air Force's own probe confirmed the congressmen's charges and recommends discontinuing Project Max. The recommendation must be approved by the secretary of the Air Force. But our sources assured us this will be just a formality.

Lance's Letdown: Since Budget Director Bert Lance became embroiled in controversy over shady bank deals, he hasn't had the time to run his office.

He no longer answers his own phone and staff aides are taking care of the day-to-day business of keeping tabs on the federal budget. Eventually, our sources believe, Lance's lack of attention to the affairs of the budget office could lead to his downfall.

Watch on Waste: The Army Engineers are spending $150,000 to improve the appetites of small-mouth bass in the Allegheny River.

Apparently, the fish have been eating less since the engineers built the Kinzua dam near Warren, Pa., 11 years ago.

This is now troubling the engineers. They may be less concerned about the fish than the environmentalists, but they are pushing ahead with a $150,000 study to find out why the small-mouth bass have lost their appetites.

Hollywood Calling: Some movie magnates in Hollywood are putting together a television show in which the stars would play circus clown roles. The producers had hoped to get two presidential sons, Jack Ford and Chip Carter, to do the old sawing-in-half act. Young Ford agreed, but Chip Carter turned thumbs down. Now the producers are looking for another circus act for Jack Ford.

— The movie men are also out to find a role for the First Brother, Billy Carter. The producers of a comedy called "Matilda" — about some gangsters and a boxing kangaroo — wanted Billy to play the part of a taxi driver. Billy's agent politely informed the producers that it was not quite the right vehicle for his debut.

Will there be enough food and who will get it? Who controls our food system? What about food quality? Is our food safe? How do food shortages in other countries affect us? What can we do to help?

The Extension Service in Essex county is offering this course starting in mid-October. It is open to all interested persons, regardless of race, color or national origin. Those who wish to take the "Your Food" course should register soon, according to Helen Earley, Extension Home Economist, as enrollment will be limited.

New Magazines At The Library

The Library has just started receiving two new sports magazines: Runner's World and Sport. "Runner's World" is a magazine directed toward the amateur runner, although it will be of interest to the more advanced runner also. The articles stress jogging for health and pleasure. There are usually several feature articles in each issue plus regular items about medical advice, technical tips and current events.

If you're not interested in participating, but like sports from the sidelines you might look at "Sport". The emphasis here is on major sports figures and each issue includes illustrated special features and news of current sporting events.

Other magazines the library has recently subscribed to are Africa Report, Bon Appetit, Bride's, Ceramics Monthly, Creative Computing, Harper's Bazaar, Maine Times, Modern Photography, Nature, Office, Prevention, Punch, Quest, Retirement Living, Signs, Soviet Life, Teen, Us, and Working Woman.

Those unable to register in person may do so by calling Roberta Salerno at the Institute.

The so-called beach porcupines found on New England shores are hard-packed balls of twigs and grasses blown along by the wind for many miles. As the ball goes along, it picks up other material and adds to itself, just like a rolling snowball. — From "Life in the Shifting Dunes," a Museum of Science publication.

On request of the members this season's first opera will be "Manon Lescaut" by Puccini. This is the first of Puccini's operas to be full of unusual melodic inventions of romance and tragedy. As usual a presentation of the opera will be made by Lotte Bertheim who is an authoritative lecturer on opera.

Children's Room News by Ruth Hooten

August's Secret Book of the Month was an especially hard one, but we have seven winners! "Mrs. Frisby and the Rats of NIHNI", a Newbery award winner, was the correct answer. The winners are: Jennifer Byrne, Lisa Foster, Sarah Merrill, Ross Shank, Susan Smith, Pete Stark, Tim Trespas. Usually we give prizes to the first five who guess correctly. Since this was not an easy book to guess, all those who answered correctly may pick up their prize in the Children's Room.

Collins Faces Rebuilding Job

By Rick Harrison

Many football teams would be extremely happy to finish the season with a 5-4 record.

But when you've tasted the kind of success Andover High and Head Coach Dick Collins have in recent years, merely producing a winning team is far from enough.

The Golden Warriors, before going 5-4 last autumn, chalked up three straight undefeated regular seasons, won two Super Bowls, and put together a string of 39 consecutive games without a loss.

It just didn't seem natural to end the year on Thanksgiving.

There is no question Collins and crew would like to return to the top of the pack in 1977, but it will take another massive rebuilding job to turn the trick.

The sheer number are there once again, as Collins greeted a staggering total of 112 candidates for the opening workout on Monday, August 29.

But only 15 are returning lettermen, and there are just four offensive starters back and only one defensive veteran.

"We are strong at the offensive skill positions, quarterback and receiver, but we lack experience in most other areas," admitted Collins earlier this week. "It's certainly true we graduated a lot of starters, but practically the same thing happened in 1974 and that team went on to win the Super Bowl starting almost from scratch."

The Offense

AHS went through rigorous double session workouts all last week and up through Labor Day, battling heat, humidity and the short 21-day period all teams have to prepare for their first game.

"We practiced four hours every morning and 2 1/2 hours each afternoon during the first week," explained Collins. "It wasn't all on-the-field work. There were meetings and chalkboard talks."

"Even so, three weeks isn't enough time to get a football team ready for its first game. I feel you need at least four weeks, and we spent an awful lot of time just teaching all the option responsibilities during those first few days," added Collins, who uses the versatile "run-and-shoot" offense.

Theory was put into practice during a lengthy scrimmage against North Andover last Monday morning . . . but more on that later.

Heading up the Golden Warriors' offense are those four returning starters, senior quarterback and Quad-Capt. Dan Welch (6'1", 200 pounds), senior left halfback and Quad-Capt. Rick Collins (5'8", 155), junior wide receiver Paul Farnham (5'7", 145), and senior wide receiver Joe Terrion (5'11", 160).

That leaves seven holes to plug, including the entire interior line and a pair of backfield positions.

Against North Andover in the scrimmage, junior Ed Collins (5'7", 150 pounds) operated at right halfback. He is Rick's brother and the coach's No. 2 son.

Three players alternated at full back and saw considerable action . . . seniors Greg Gardner (5'10", 170) and Paul Dubose (5'11", 165), along with junior Ray Lynch (5'10", 175).

Head Coach
Dick Collins

Gardner played behind the likes of Jerry Stabile (now at Boston College) and Luis Pizarro last season, but saw enough action to earn his letter. Lynch also played often enough to earn a varsity letter, while Dubose is up from the JV squad.

Working out at end, along with Farnham and Terrion, are junior Jim Arnold (6'3", 190), junior Dave Alexander (5'8", 145), and senior Bob Kramer (5'10", 165).

Additional quarterbacks are Manny Silva (5'7", 145) and four good-looking sophomore prospects in Dave Nardone (6', 165), Ken Southworth, Mike Curley and Tom Walsh. Nardone and Southworth were the No. 1 signal-callers for the West and East Junior High freshmen respectively last Fall, while Curley and Walsh were their back-ups.

"We haven't been this deep at quarterback (six kids) in quite awhile," admitted Collins, "and I'm really pleased with the way every one of them has been playing thus far."

Starting at offensive tackle against NA were seniors Mike Hart (6'2", 195) and Dana Merrill (6'1", 220), both varsity reserves last season.

The guards who saw considerable action were senior Quad-Capt. Mark Hopkins (6', 185), senior Dave LaFleur (5'8", 173) and senior Kirk Skinner (5'11", 195).

Hopkins started a few games on offense in 1976, while LaFleur was a varsity reserve. Skinner suffered an injury in the NA scrimmage, the severity of which wasn't known immediately.

Senior Ed Darby (5'9", 165), also a reserve last year, was the starting center in Monday's practice game.

The Defense

Hopkins is the lone returning starter on defense, operating at the middle guard position.

Senior Ray Kelly (5'10", 175) and Arnold opened at defensive ends against NA, while vying for the top tackle berths were junior Ed Reming (6'3", 225) and the senior trio of Dave Heidt (5'10", 190), Brian Coleman (5'9", 207) and Merrill.

Dave Porcaro (5'9", 175) is being given the look-see both at defensive tackle and middle guard.

Battling for linebacker spots are LaFleur, Gardner and Hart, along with junior Len Driscoll (5'10", 175), senior Ken Dillon (5'9", 165) and senior Barry Charewicz (5'10", 165).

In the secondary, working at halfback were senior Ed Hunter (5'9", 160), junior Dan Grams (5'8", 150), Kramer and Alexander.

Alternating at safety were junior Mark DeFranco (6', 160) and Farnham.

Also up for consideration at defensive end are senior John Cooney (5'10", 170) and junior Jeff Hudgins (6'2", 175).

"Before we started workouts I felt our least experienced area would be the defensive secondary," related Collins. "But Bill Vickers did an excellent job during the first week and developed those players to a point where we were pretty satisfied with them in the scrimmage."

"Of course, very few starting spots are assured at this stage and we still have plenty of work to do," added the veteran coach.

The First Cocktail

When Betsy Flannagan, who served George Washington's officers, made them a drink of rum, rye and fruit juices, she stuck into each glass the tail feather of a Tory enemy's prize bird.

"Vive le coq's tail!" cried a French officer — and the word cocktail was launched.

The volume of the oceans is 331 million cubic miles which is eight times the volume of the land above sea level, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Kicking Game

Andover's punting chores this season should be handled by either Dave Alexander or sophomore Bill Stahley.

"They have both looked pretty good in practice," remarked Collins. "But in the scrimmage we really couldn't tell much, because neither team rushed the punter and everything was a fair catch. We'll know more about the punters in a few days."

The placekickers, hoping to follow in the footsteps of former AHS standouts such as Scott Seero (UNH), Pete Reilly (University of Rhode Island) and Paul Derby, are Manny Silva and Rick Collins.

NA Scrimmage

"It was a fairly even scrimmage," commented Collins. "They were ahead of us 8-6 when the first teams were on the field, but our second unit scored a touchdown late in the scrimmage. The score doesn't really indicate too much, though."

"North Andover has a good football team again this year, and they controlled the ball against us very well. We didn't fire out, hit or tackle well during the five 20-play periods. They completely out-charged us up front."

"However, if I was totally happy with the scrimmage they wouldn't even need a coach at Andover now, would they?" laughed Collins.

The Golden Warriors have one more pre-season tune-up, hosting Welleasley for a scrimmage at Lovely Field this Saturday morning.

Collins To Discuss Program

Dick Collins and his Andover High football coaching staff will discuss various aspects of the AHS football program on Tuesday, Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the large group room at Andover High School.

Among the topics to be discussed will be conditioning, injuries, football fundamentals, football strategy and the philosophy of Andover football.

The meeting is being sponsored by the "Andover Football Parents Organization," a newly-formed group which will promote Andover football by the continued distribution of game programs and the sponsorship of the annual football banquet.

All parents and friends of Andover football are invited to attend this open meeting.

Collins

remains pretty much the same as it has been in recent years, with Dick Bourdelais handling the varsity line and Bill Vickers the varsity backs.

Bob King coaches the varsity ends and doubles as the team trainer, while Karl Lippman is coaching the JV team and George Sullivan works with the JV linemen.

Jim Hurley is the freshman coach at East, with Leo Lafond and Ken Maglio helping out, while Bill Fleishman coaches the West frosh assisted by Steve Tisbert and Jay Darren.

The Record

Collins is beginning his 19th year at the Andover helm, and he reached a personal milestone last season by registering his 100th victory.

It came in a convincing 40-0 romp under frigid conditions at Dracut High, a game totally dominated by the Warriors.

Collins' overall ledger reads 101-54-10 entering this season, and the Merrimack Valley Conference mark is an outstanding 72-21-5.

Collins' teams have won MVC championships outright in 1966, 1973, 1974 and 1975, while Andover shared the title with Dracut in 1971.

Only once in the last 14 years, since 1963, has Andover experienced a losing season. That was in 1970 when the record was 3-6-0.

"I remember we lost two 1-point games that season, too," laughed Collins, "or we would have been 5-4."

The Schedule

Andover returns to its 10-game schedule this year, once again facing Pentucket Regional in the non-league season's opener a week from this Saturday, Sept. 17.

The game will be on the road at West Newbury.

The MVC schedule has been shuffled somewhat, AHS opening with consecutive games against defending league cochamps Tewksbury and Wilmington. Tewksbury will be at Lovely Field Sept. 24, while the Warriors trek to Wilmington Oct. 1.

It was Coach Bob Aylward's Tewksbury club that halted Andover's unbeaten streak last year, registering a taut 7-0 triumph, while Wilmington dumped the Warriors 18-8 enroute to the Division II Super Bowl last year (the Wildcats bowed to Lynn English).

"If I had to pick a club to beat this year it would be Chelmsford," noted Collins. "But we don't face them until the tailend of the year (Nov. 5), and there is no way we can look anywhere past Tewksbury and Wilmington at this stage of the season."

The traditional Thanksgiving Day game against Central Catholic will be at Veterans Stadium in Lawrence this year (Nov. 24).

Following is the complete Andover schedule for 1977:

September
17	..... at Pentucket Regional
24	..... Tewksbury
October
1	..... at Wilmington
8	..... Austin Prep
15	..... Methuen
22	..... at Billerica
29	..... Lawrence
November
5	..... at Chelmsford
12	..... Dracut
24	..... at Central Catholic, 10 a.m.

Kennel Club

The Merrimack Valley Kennel Club is holding its annual Fall All Breed AKC Sanctioned B-OB (Breed and Obedience) Match on Sept. 11, at the Hood Memorial School in Derry, N.H.

Entries will close at 11:30; all Obedience Judging will begin at 12 noon and all Breed Judging will begin at 12:30.

Junior Showmanship will begin at 11 with classes for novice junior and novice senior as well as open junior and open senior.

Junior Gridders Prep For Season

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Junior Football League is getting ready to launch its 18th straight season of competition for boys ages 10 through 13 years.

AJFL officials have already conducted several pre-season meetings, and on-the-field tryouts will be held at the East Junior High Playstead Field Monday through Thursday, September 12, 13, 14 and 15.

All four sessions will begin at 5 p.m. and run until 6:30 p.m.

All players must register and try out at one of these times in order to be assigned to a team. A $15.00 registration fee should accompany application.

The league, which consists of six teams, is for boys who reached their 10th birthday by Sept. 1, 1977 and who will not attain their 14th birthday by Jan. 1, 1978.

Boys must not weigh more 120 pounds on the day they officially register for play, unless they are 12 years old or younger.

Birth certificates will be required at the time of registration for new players only.

All eighth grade boys must try out for their appropriate (East or West) Junior High school 7th and 8th grade teams, and be released by the coach after tryouts, in order to be eligible for the Junior Football League.

These boys must at that time obtain a release slip from the Junior High coach and present it to AJFL officials.

All coaches will be on hand at the tryouts.

Candidates will be grouped according to ability after the final session, and the league draft will follow.

All AJFL games are held at the Playstead on Sundays, with triple-headers beginning at 12 noon each weekend for five consecutive Sundays.

The first set of games this Fall will be played on October 2.

The Central Colts, who have won a number of championships in recent years, are the defending titlists having posted a perfect 5-0-0 record last year with a bulbous 101-6 scoring edge on the opposition.

Other teams are the West Andover Redskins, runners-up last year at 3-2-0, the Ballardvale Browns (2-2-1), The Indian Ridge Vikings (1-2-2), the Shawsheen Patriots (1-3-1) and the Bancroft Dolphins (0-3-2).

There are two new skippers in the league, and one other coach has changed teams.

The rookie coaches are Joe Tisbert, who replaces brother Steve at the Redskins' helm, and John O'Connor who succeeds Craig Hurst as the head of the Vikings.

Hurst remains in the league, having jumped to the head post of the Browns.

Returning as head coaches with the same teams are Frank Flanigan (colts), Norm Wallace (Patriots) and Lou LoPresti (Dolphins).

Bill Walsh is the league president, while the three vice-presidents are Mike Sirois, Marty Soloman and former Browns' coach Bill Doherty. Rounding out the list of officers for 1977 are secretary Dick Asoian and treasurer Bob Merola.

Andover High varsity Coach Dick Colling and longtime former AJFL president Ed LaFleur are advisors to the league.

Applications for the league can be obtained at the Sport Shop and at Barcelos Market, both on Main Street, Andover.

The complete league schedule appeared in last week's TOWNSMAN.

Eosefow Hopes For More Game Breakers

As a freshman last year for the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute varsity football team, Craig Eosefow, a 5-10, 170 pounder from North Andover, saw limited action.

And much like any newcomer who was seeing limited action, Craig was put on the specialty team, the guys who run downfield at full-steam and crash into the ball-carrier, who is also running at full-steam.

As a defensive back, Craig didn't get to play an awful lot, but he is a letterman, one of 26 lettermen back from last year's 5-4 team. He earned his letter by leading RPI to a 20-7 win over Rochester Tech last season.

Craig tells the story.

"It was right after we had scored a touchdown, the first touchdown of the game," the 5-10, 170 pound chemical engineering major recalls. "We kicked off to Rochester Tech, and on the play there was a fumble. I recovered the fumble, and several plays later we scored."

It was that second touchdown scored by RPI that proved to be the difference in the game, as the homestanding Tigers came back late in the contest to make a game of it.

RPI had a 5-4 record last season, its first winning football season in 10 years and only the second winning football season in 29 years at RPI. RPI lost 12 lettermen — many of whom were starters — from last year's club.

Craig could be in much the same position he was in last season as all four starters in the defensive backfield from last year's team are back. The defensive backfield is considered the team's strength.

But three of the four defensive backs will be gone through graduation upon the conclusion of the season, meaning Eosefow will be sitting pretty come next season, his senior campaign.

In high school, Craig played for a winner at powerful Andover High as he started as a junior and senior as a defensive backfullback. In Eosefow's junior year, Andover copped a 9-0 record and went 10-0 his senior year.

The team was state runner-up at the Class B level his junior year. "Coach Dick Collins was the biggest influence in my sports life," says Eosefow, who is a member of the Theta Chi Fraternity, considered the football players' fraternity here at RPI.

Craig also played hockey and competed in track in high school as he was a winger in hockey as a junior and senior, and was a long jumper in track as a sophomore and junior.

David J. Barratt

Air Force Enlistee

David J. Barratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Barratt formerly of 3 Surrey Lane, Andover, has enlisted in the Air Force, according to Staff Sergeant Bill Sowers Air Force Recruiter in Lawrence.

A 1977 graduate of Andover High School, selected a position in the Aircraft Maintenance career field and departed for basic training Aug. 30.

After completion of six weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas, Barratt is scheduled to receive technical training for which transferrable college credits will be granted.

Warrior Booters Open Saturday

37

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 8, 1977

Battling record heat for the first two days of last week the Golden Warrior Soccer Team had a fine turnout and a fine week of soccer.

There were over 50 persons trying out for the team, and although the numbers were slightly off from last year the skill and endurance and every other aspect was a big improvement over last year. As well as skill drills intersquad scrimmages, and conditioning drills the preseason contained about five scrimmages each for the varsity and the junior varsity team. The varsity looked quite strong playing some of the Cape Ann League teams, but most of these were not the strongest teams in the League with the exception of Lynnfield. The junior varsity managed to hold their own in most of the scrimmages but were outclassed by a strong Wakefield team on Monday morning. This was also the only loss for the varsity in the preseason schedule, but the end results are not the most important part of these scrimmages, and they are not played as a regular game.

The Andover Varsity squad will consist of many of last year's starting players who are back as seniors this year. They have a great deal of experience and they are looking forward to improving their record in the Merrimack Valley league. The two vacancies created by graduation were at the center full back and the goalie position. Where Chuck Ness, last years back up goalie, and Arthur Defusco, a first year senior candidate are battling for the starting spot. Other returning seniors include Defenders Neil Faigel, George Donovan, and Bob Zwicker, Midfielders Tony Cammarata, Peter Chilis, and Carl Gutermann Senior Forwards include Dave Johnson, Dave Farrell, and Rich O'Hara. Utility men Mike Silverman and Tom Flannery round out the senior roster. Some junior members will also see action with the varsity, and they include David Yates, Gary Cohen, Tom Keefe, and Eric Ketzler to name a few. The varsity will need more shoring up and many of the other juniors as well as some of the sophomores will see action as the season progresses.

The Merrimack Valley League should be a great deal stronger this year than last as many of the teams are expecting most of their starts to return. Billerica, and Wilmington have been the teams to beat over the last few years, with Methuen and last year St. John's close behind. Andover was tied for fifth place with Chelmsford and hopes to improve in the standings this year.

All the action starts Saturday Sept. 10 with the Jamboree which is held in Billerica. Each Team plays one other team for one half of a game. Andover has drawn St. Johns, and kick off is set for 6:45 to 7:30 p.m. The first game starts at 6 p.m. and the last game at 9 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any team member. The first regular season game will be Wednesday Sept. 11 against Tewksbury at home, kick off 3:30 p.m.

Wellesley Jockey In Rock Lead

After a two day respite following the 14-race Labor Day Doubleheader program, Rockingham Park swings into the closing weeks of the summer thoroughbred session which winds up on Sunday, September 18.

After 50 days of the scheduled 65 day meeting, newcomer Paul Nicolo has a comfortable lead in the jockey standings with 41 wins to Bill Mayorga's 34 trips to the winners circle. The 21 year old Wellesley, native came to Rockingham this year for the first time and has led the standings for most of the meeting.

John Lenzini, Jr., has a commanding lead in the trainers standings having saddled 24 winners to lead Ned Allard who has 16 and Burt Sipp who has 15. Lenzini led the standings last summer when he saddled 38 winners during a 65 day meeting.

Rock Chips — The G. M. Cheevers Stable, Inc., of Boston Bruins' hockey player Gerry Cheevers is the leading money winning stable so far this summer at Rockingham having garnered over $70,000 in purse money with his stable. . . Cheevers' three-year-old Royal Ski should make his first start of the Rock meeting soon. Sidelined for most of the season with an illness, Royal Ski has been training well at Rock in recent weeks. . . Stretch runners Comedy Kid and Jet Fiacca are expected to renew their rivalry in the $20,000-added Irving Gushen Memorial this Saturday at Rock. . . The Gushen is named after the former national president of the Horsemen's Protective & Benevolent Association who raced his stable at Rockingham for many years. . . When Caption won the Concord Stakes at Rock several weeks ago she became the first stakes winner from the first crop of foals sired by Kentucky Derby winner Riva Ridge. . . Rev. Kelly Blanton of Miami, Florida, is the first fulltime chaplain at Rockingham Park under a program of racetrack chaplaincy sponsored by the track and the Racetrack Chaplaincy of America. . . Three stakes events will be run at Rockingham during the final week of the meeting. The $7,500-added N. E. Futurama will run on Wednesday, Sept. 14; the $20,000-added Rockingham Juvenile Stakes on Sat., Sept. 17 and the Barbara Ann Stakes on Sun., Sept. 18.

Benefits Extended

Massachusetts Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefits will be extended from a maximum of 30 weeks to a maximum of 39 weeks because of a change in the the national insured unemployment rate, according to John D. Crosier, Director of the Division of Employment Security (DES).

The reinstatement of the Federal-State Extended Benefit Program (TRES) will begin on August 28, 1977, and will continue for a least a 13-week period.

By law, a period of extended benefits can be initiated by an upward shift in either the national or state insured unemployment rates. The national rate rose to 4.5 percent during the week of August 13, the rate required by law to "trigger on" the program.

Claimants whose regular unemployment benefits exhausted and whose benefit year is still in effect during the weeks ending August 13 and August 20 may now return to their local claims center to open a claim for extended benefits.

Claimants who were recently affected by the ending of the original TRES program and who had their claims transferred to the Federally-funded Supplemental Benefit Program (FSB), will have their claims shifted back to TRES for the balance of weeks owed on that program. They will then be eligible to collect the balance of their FSB claim until it is exhausted or until November 12, when the FSB program is due to end.

Information on individual claims will be provided by local DES Claims Centers when claimants report at their regularly scheduled times.

Babe Ruth Workouts

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team will hold two Fall workout sessions on Saturday, Sept. 17 and Sunday, Sept. 18 at the large Playstead Field at East Junior High.

The Saturday workout will run from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, while Sunday's workout will be from 2-4 p.m.

All Little League graduates, as well as other youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 years, are eligible to participate.

The team has a maximum 15-player roster, and all spots on the club are open.

Andover recently completed its 1977 season in the Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League, posting a 17-10 record and a 20-11-1 overall ledger including non-league and three games in Montreal, Canada.

The locals placed second to North Andover during the regular season, and reached the championship playoff finals before bowing out to NA.

The team record over the past four summers has been 86-34-3.

The Fall workouts are conducted annually to determine who is most interested in trying out for the team.

The "official" tryouts will be held next Spring, several months before the 1978 season begins in late May. The team will be picked at that time.

Plans for next year's team include a fifth annual trip to Montreal in July, and several non-league games to go with the extensive G-L schedule.

Job Preparation Is Course Aim

Andover Junior College, recognizing that many jobs go unfilled because not enough qualified people are available for these positions, has designed several new 30-week day and 40-week evening programs to prepare students to meet the requirements for getting these jobs.

All of the programs are made up of 10 three-credit courses which, if a student later desires a longer educational program, can be applied to an associate in applied science degree. Day classes begin September 19 and evening classes begin Sept. 12.

"Prisoner of 2nd Avenue" calls for a cast of four women and two men. Tryouts will be Sunday, Sept. 11, 2-4, at the Ballardvale Community Center, and Thursday, September 15, 7:30-10, at Memorial Hall Library. Anyone interested in acting or working behind the scenes is urged to attend.

Boston Ballet To Open Family Cultural Series

The Boston Ballet Company featuring performances of "Carmina Burana" and selections from "Swan Lake" will open the 1977 - 1978 cultural season of the University of Lowell Foundation, Inc. Nov. 4.

Both a major and diversified program for the year has been planned by the board of directors for the Foundation, which also includes a family opera series, acclaimed musical comedy "Cabaret" and a classical season's close with Bach's "B Minor Mass."

The family series is offered as a result of last year's educational success introducing Merrimack Valley public school students to opera through sponsorship of the Sarah Caldwell Opera New England residency. Dean of the University of Lowell College of Music Thomas G. Elliot will produce, with Ivan Oak, director of the College's Opera Workshop, two operas geared for school audiences, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" in December and "Hansel and Gretel" during March. Both matinee and evening performances will be offered.

The Feb. 3 "Cabaret" production will be staged by New York Director, Jack Warner of On the Aisle Productions. Warner is currently in rehearsal at Connecticut College and his company has performed throughout the northeast.

Also on the spring 1978 calendar for Foundation musical specials are April performances of Mozart's "Magic Flute", and the Bach Mass on May 3. An internationally known soloist has been invited to sing in the last presentation, and casting details will be available in the next few weeks.

The performances will be staged at the University of Lowell Performing Arts Center, Cyrus Durgin Hall, and subscription information for the series or individual programs is available by contacting the University of Lowell, Foundation Office, 1 University Ave., Lowell, Mass. 01854. Mrs. Edward M. Quinn is coordinator for Foundation activities.

Choral Group To Rehearse

The Male Choir and Choral Society of Andover are combining again this year on Sept. 20, Tuesday evening to prepare for the fall and Christmas season concerts.

On Nov. 13 famous songs of thanksgiving will be presented and on Dec. 24 and again Dec. 11 the famous "Messiah" by Handel.

Rehearsals will be held in the Andover High School Choral room — the male members start at 7:30 and the ladies at 8:15.

Both the male choir and the choral society extend an invitation to any and all singers who love the works of the masters to join. There are no auditions.

Chief Henry L. Hilton

To Honor Retired Fire Chief

A testimonial dinner honoring retired Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton will be held Friday, Aug. 18 at the Andover Country Club.

Chief Hilton retired this year after over 30 years service to the town.

At the Aug. 16 affair, there will be a social hour, dinner, brief program and dancing. Retired Lawrence Fire Chief Edward Retelle will be the toastmaster.

Hilton was named a permanent firefighter April 27, 1943 and was named deputy chief in July of 1955. He was promoted to chief of the department in July of 1955. A veteran of World War II, he was recalled to service during the Korean conflict.

Tickets for the affair are available through the fire department.

Milkweed Patch At Museum

The Peabody Museum of Salem has installed a new case that's not the ordinary museum case. Brown wrapping paper covers the floor. Two bunches of milkweed stand behind the glass and a closer look reveals a stirring leaf and underneath, a green and black caterpillar munching away.

Glued to the glass is a tidy little green bundle, the chrysalis of the Monarch butterfly, the spectacular orange and black butterfly that flutters over our gardens in late summer and fall.

These are the butterflies hatching now who will gather toward the end of September to begin their long migration to Mexico. And in the Peabody Museum's case the life cycle of these creatures is being enacted in public. The count of caterpillars and chrysalis varies as eggs hatch and a chrysalis becomes a butterfly.

The process takes about 30 days, so for the next month you can see its different stages in the Museum's case. The protective coloring means you will have to peer closely not to miss a caterpillar or so. But when you find one watch the dedication with which he is getting his nourishment of milkweed for the next stage in his life. There will certainly be butterflies in the milkweed patch.

to net and band the 41 migrating butterflies.

On September 24, Clara Waterman of the Education Department of the Peabody Museum of Salem will lead a group at Eastern Point, Gloucester, Americans used more gasoline in 1976, 118.8 billion gallons, than any other year in history. This is 4.4 billion gallons more than used in 1973

Standex Sets Sales Records

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) has announced record sales and earnings for the fiscal year and fourth quarter periods ended June 30. The company also forecast that fiscal 1978 would be "another record-breaking year."

Daniel E. Hogan, Chairman and Chief Executive of the diversified company, indicated that fourth quarter results were "just super!" and that he expected Standex to attain "a substantial gain in sales and earnings in the fiscal year just begun."

In the year ended June 30, net income rose 18% to $8,145,000 or $2.82 per share, as compared with the prior year's $6,882,000, or $2.46 per share. Sales for the year amounted to $208,336,000, up 10% from $189,281,000 the year before.

In the fourth fiscal quarter ended June 30, net income rose 29% to a record $2,- 359,000 or 81¢ per share, as compared with the prior year's $1,827,000, or 65¢ per share. Sales for the period rose 6% to $52,169,000, as against $49,430,000 in the prior year. Net income and earnings per share figures for the prior-year periods have been restated in accordance with the new foreign currency translation regulations.

Hogan indicated that the record results for the year were achieved "despite extreme weather conditions and gas shortages (which closed three of our major plants), one-time write-offs and liquidations, and a costly strike at a major facility." He added that "these problems are now behind us and — barring severe unforeseen economic difficulties — we look forward to a substantial upward surge in earnings."

Hogan added that Standex's recent dividend policy "has reflected the company's vigorous performance and strong financial condition." Standex has increased its cash dividends in six of the last seven quarters.

And is now paying dividends at an annual rate of 90¢ a share, up 20% from the 75¢ rate of a year ago.

Standex recently announced preliminary agreement with certain major stockholders of Manufacturers Systems, Inc. for the purchase of their stock as part of a contemplated tender offer to all of their public stockholders. The firm, which manufactures metal products for heating, air-conditioning and pollution systems, had sales of slightly over $20 million in its June 30 fiscal year as compared with sales of $12.3 million last year. Standex has also recently acquired for cash a small glass manufacturer which supplies glass parts for one of its institutional divisions.

While most major operating units contributed to the 1977 record results, Hogan indicated that "particularly impressive results" were turned in by its rapidly-growing electronics operations, its institutional products units, and the consumer mail-order divisions. He added that the consumer housewares division absorbed substantial write-offs in the liquidation of an outdated cookware manufacturing plant, the closing of a cookware finishing facility, and the disposal of a barbecue manufacturing operation.

Financially, Hogan stated, Standex has never been stronger. At fiscal year end, the company had a book value of $26.57 per share, working capital of $22 a share and a current ratio of 3.4:1.

Standex is a diversified manufacturer operating in four basic growth areas: Consumer Products; Institutional Products; Graphics and Industrial/Electronic Products.

Dr. O'Reilly Resigns From Board

Andover is without a board of health at the moment, with the resignation of Dr. William R. O'Reilly, effective Aug. 31.

Dr. Robert A. Walsh, chairman of the board, announced a week ago that he would not be available for reappointment to the post.

This leaves only Dr. Douglas A. Dunbar as still a member of the three member board.

Dr. O'Reilly said that the pressure of his practice made it difficult for him to continue to serve.

With no full board available to act, the health department director, is unable as of the moment to issue necessary permits from that office.

Special Counsel For Committee?

School Committeeman Casimir Kolaski has been assigned to look into the possibility of the committee having its own Legal counsel, rather than relying on the Town Counsel's office.

Kolaski noted Tuesday night that attorney services have been required frequently since he came on the committee last March, mostly because of labor-related suits.

"I just want to make sure we have the best legal guidance," he said.

Chairman David Ahouse recalled that Town Meeting chopped off $5000 for special legal counsel a couple of years ago, probably because of the political climate at the time.

Colleague Elaine Viehmann agreed the committee needs "consistent, steady, legal advice" that's always available. She said she has dealt with three people in the town counsel's office in the course of the year, and has found their advice "inconsistent and sometimes conflicting, sometimes written, sometimes verbal."

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert added that "we're running a very large $10 million business, and it doesn't make sense not to have our own counsel."

Manager

chart'er presented a problem, in that an appointment must be for a five year term.

It was announced that the acting manager position would be offered to Austin and that the board would be willing to sit with him and discuss the matter, whenever he wished.

Incubator Funded

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of the March of Dimes recently presented $4,000 to Lawrence General Hospital to be used toward the purchase of a Puritan-Bennett Infant Incubator. The incubator is for use in the Special Care Nursery at the Hospital.

It provides radiant heat for infant warmth, as well as integrated physiological monitoring modules for temperature, ECG/heart rate, respiration rate, and oxygen concentration. Patient data is presented on illuminated digital display panels.

The gift from the March of Dimes reflects that organization's interest in the prevention and treatment of birth defects.

Attend Meeting

James Bean, manager of production control at Andover, Charles Green, supervisor of manufacturing operations, and Luther Lavoie, industrial engineer for the Raytheon Co., all recently attended a three-day workshop seminar on computer-aided manufacturing (CAM) at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA.
